ISLAND AIR ANNOUNCES OPERATIONAL PERFORMANCE FOR FEBRUARY

HONOLULU — Island Air announced today that for the month of February 2016, it completed 99.9 percent of its 670 scheduled flights with one cancellation, and 87.6 percent of its flights arrived on time. *(As is the case with major airlines that report their on-time information to the U.S. Department of Transportation, a flight is counted as "on time" if it arrives within 14 minutes of its scheduled arrival time).

“Island Air’s operational performance continues to make steady improvements, as our entire team remains focused and has made contributions to providing customers with the best interisland travel experience,” said Island Air CEO Les Murashige.

Island Air began announcing its operational performance in September 2015. The airline plans to continue releasing flight performance data on a monthly and quarterly basis, so that current and potential customers can see how the airline is performing as the carrier continues to improve and position itself for a strong future as Hawai‘i’s affordable alternative interisland airline.

Island Air will resume service to Kaua‘i on Tuesday, March 15, with six round-trip flights between Honolulu and Līhu‘e, and connections to and from Kahului, Maui.

* Island Air operational performance numbers reflect system-wide operations, based on all scheduled flights, using Official Airline Guide (OAG) published arrival times and Aircraft Communications Addressing and Reporting System (ACARS) data. Because Island Air does not account for at least 1 percent of U.S. industrywide domestic scheduled passenger revenues, Island Air's performance data is not reflected in the U.S. Department of Transportation monthly Air Travel Consumer Report, which currently tracks the performance and punctuality of 13 of the nation's largest airlines that are required to submit data.
