SOTHEBY'S AUCTION HOUSE HOSTS PRIVATE VALUATION EVENT INVITATION TO CONSIGN CHINESE ART

HONOLULU – LIST Sotheby's International Realty will host Sotheby's visiting specialists, Meeseen Loong, Angela McAteer and Xian Fang of Sotheby's Auction House for a valuation of Chinese ceramics, works of art and paintings at an event on Monday, April 18 and Tuesday, April 19, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 677 Ala Moana Blvd., Suite 111.

China has emerged as the largest consumer in the world for luxury goods. Since Sotheby's (<http://www.sothebys.com/en.html>) held its first auction of Chinese art in London in 1922, the department has increased with sales held twice yearly in four key locations: London, New York, Hong Kong and Paris, and is now the international market leader for Asian art. Just last week, Sotheby's New York held a successful week of Asian Art auctions, totaling $55 million.

Returning from a successful event in Honolulu in 2015, Meeseen Loong and her team have targeted Hawaii as an important market for the consignment of Chinese works of art and paintings. LIST Sotheby's International Realty is once again hosting the event, but this time at their new flagship office at 677 Ala Moana Blvd., Suite 111. "We have a long-standing history with the Sotheby's Auction House, and we're honored to welcome them back to Hawaii. This is an incredible opportunity for owners of fine Chinese art to participate in an exciting and potentially rewarding event," said Myra Brandt, Principal Broker at LIST Sotheby's International Realty.

Hawaii already boasts an established clientele of art connoisseurs in the local area. The event in April is an opportunity to bring in individual works of art for a complimentary appraisal and consideration for auction consignment.

The event will take place on Monday, April 18 and Tuesday, April 19, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Prior to the event, interested parties are asked to submit photos of their items and provenance information to asiaweek@sothebys.com for consideration. Please call the New York Chinese Art department at (212) 606-7332 for further information and to schedule a confidential appointment.
